Guests will be the project's initiators Constantin Petcou and Doina Petrescu, atelier d'architecture autogérée, and Anne Querrien, urbanist, sociologist and expert on participation theory from Paris.

Vienna and Resources. Learning from Elsewhere

Wed, 25.04.2012, 7 pm, Az W Podium

Impulse lectures and discussion

Awareness of resources and dealing with garbage are important for processes of self-empowerment. At the same time garbage is a global business and a challenge for urban administrations. How does Vienna manage its garbage and its resources? What are the perspectives for the future? How can architecture and design products be made out of garbage? Please also note the bus tour „Vienna and Resources. The Rinterzelt“.

Spring Cinema

Wed, 09.05.2012, 7 pm, Az W Podium

The revolutionary spring of 2011 has produced a new language of the documentary film. The issues are not only global political changes but also questions of self-empowerment, neighbourliness, food sovereignty and urban gardening. On this evening the focus is on film-makers from different local contexts and their work. They show excerpts from their films, tell about their interest in the themes and their experiences with documentaries.

Mr and Mrs Gardener

Wed, 20.06.2012, 6 pm, Az W Podium

Since 1992 it has been permitted to live in many Viennese allotment garden complexes for the entire year. A design Eldorado for young architects and for the rampant growth of a do-it-yourself aesthetic. It is now time to review the current situation. The Az W issues an invitation to a summer night's school of the allotment garden.

Summer Party at the Az W

Wed, 20.06.2012, 8 pm, Courtyard

After the event "Mr and Mrs Gardener" the Az W will celebrate its summer party, which has become something of a tradition, with beer, grilled sausages and home-grown vegetables in the intimate courtyard of the Architekturzentrum Wien – very much in the spirit of the "Schrebergarten", the allotment movement.

COURSES

Module Kunsttransfer, Institut für Kunst und Gestaltung 1, TU Vienna, summer semester 2012

Taking Hold of the City

Inge Manka, Andrea Seidling

The exhibition “Hands-on Urbanism 1850 – 2012. The Right to Green” provides the starting point and first action space for two courses in the module “Kunsttransfer” (Art Transfer) which is offered by the Institut für Kunst und Gestaltung 1 as part of the master's degree in architecture at the TU Vienna. In a one-week workshop participants intensively examine the material of the exhibition so that, using it as a basis, they can develop their own ideas about urban development from below, either in a purely visionary way on paper, or by implementing them practically in different locations in Vienna.
